THE PILGRIM

WORDS BY LAWRENCE PERRY.

MUSIC BY
OLEY SPEAKS.

HIGH VOICE.
LOW VOICE.

The John Church Company.
Cincinnati • New York • Chicago,
Leipsic • London
Lawrence Ferry.

Used by permission of Poets and Magazine.

Oley Speaks.

The Pilgrim.

Andante.

Slow the evening shadows fall,

Fades the golden light, Pilgrim, cease thy

Copyright, MCMXVII, by The John Church Company.
International Copyright.
wandering, Rest thee through the night.

 Bruised feet and weary, Care and pain oppressed; Pilgrim, yet a little while,

Soon thou too shalt sleep. Slow the evening shadows
Fall, fades the golden light;

Pilgrim, cease thy wandering, rest thee through the night.

Purple shadows deepen, crag and moor-land die;
Softly thro' the darkness Hear the night birds' cry,

Short thy way, though weary, Brief thy pain, though deep,
Pilgrim, yet a little while, Pilgrim, yet a little while,
Soon thou too shalt sleep.
Soon thou shalt sleep.
Slow the evening shadows fall,

Fades the golden light;
Pilgrim, cease thy wandering,

Rest thee through the night...