battle dark and gory in a sun-burst of glory, When the boys come home. The day will seem brighter when the boys come home, And our hearts will be lighter when the boys come home; Wives and sweet-hearts will press them in their arms and caress them, And pray God to bless them When the boys come home.

The thin ranks will be proudest when the boys come home, And

The thin ranks will be proudest when the boys come home, And our cheer will ring the loudest when the boys come home; The full ranks will be shattered, and the

uniforms be dusty when the boys come home; But
