Villanelle of the Poet’s Road.

Wine and woman and song,
Three things garnish our way,
Yet is day over long.

Lest we do our youth wrong,
Gather them while we may,
Wine and woman and song.

Three things render us strong,
Vines, waves, kisses and bay,
Yet is day over long.

Unto us they belong,
Us the bitter and gay,
Wine and woman and song.

We as we pass along
Are sad that they will not stay,
Yet is day over long.

Flowers and fruit among,
What is better than they?
Wine and woman and song,
Yet is day over long.

Op. 74, No 5.

Yet is day over long,
Lest we do our youth wrong,
Gather them while we may, Wine and woman and song.

Wine and woman and song, Three things render us strong.

Vine-leaves kisses and bay, Yet is day over long.

Yet is day over long, Unto us they belong.
Us the bit-ter and gay,
Wine and wo-man and song.
Flowers and fruits among

What is better than they,

Wine and woman and song. Yet is day over long.

CLAUDE DEBUSSY,
WRITER UPON THE COMPOSITIONS OF CYRIL SCOTT.

"CYRIL SCOTT's Songs are amongst the most delightful and original in the English Language.

"CYRIL SCOTT's Pianoforte Works receive universal recognition from all those who are in any way interested in the trend of modern music.

"We have very few English writers of any note for the piano today, but of all these Cyril Scott is the very best of all."—From The Musical Standard.
